

Sedwick Materials List:

Here are the materials I will be working with during the workshop. Feel free to use whatever you're comfortable with! You can check out lots of my favorite products on my Amazon page. (*Remember - Amazon may not be the cheapest place to buy art supplies)

Palette - a 12x16 disposable paper palette pad. I use the New Wave white pad.

Palette knife – not a teeny one. You want to be able to scoop up a pile of paint with it. I recommend the tip to be about 2 inches long, and flexible. I like the RGM softgrip no. 45 (blue handle)

Rags or paper towels (I like disposable blue shop towels, available at hardware stores)

Solvent: Gamsol or Turpenoid

A glass jar with tight-fitting lid, or another container for Gamsol

Medium: Gamblin's Solvent-Free Gel, walnut oil, linseed oil, Liquin, or similar.

Viewfinder: I use the View Catcher by The Color Wheel brand. You can make your own out of two L-shaped pieces of cardboard and a paper clip.

Paint - I use M. Graham and Gamblin.

- Titanium white
- Ivory black
- Hansa or lemon yellow
- cadmium yellow medium
- cadmium red light or medium
- alizarin crimson
- viridian or pthalo blue
- ultramarine blue

Brushes - I use Princeton Summit series taklon (synthetic, white bristles, green handles) for this course, but you may use whatever you prefer. A good starter set is a #2 round and a #4 flat.

Cleanup: Murphy's oil soap or The Master's Brush Cleaner and Preserver

Canvases or other painting surfaces:

You'll need a painting surface for your black and white value study. I will be working on Arches Oil Paper, my favorite surface for this type of thing. 8x8 or 8x10 is a good size.

Two canvases, panels, or your preferred painting surface, one square, one rectangular. 8x10, 9x12, 8x8, 10x10 or larger if you like! I work on Raymar smooth cotton canvas panels.

An easel. I like standing to paint, and if your preference is to sit, tabletop easels are also fine.

A sketchbook or some kind of paper (nothing fancy) A pencil, ballpoint pen, or sharpie - or all three!

A digital camera or smartphone. And A Facebook account (optional, but helpful).
